Good Librarianship Includes Good Space Management

1200 Current Serial Publications now available on U-Microfilm

XEROX PRINTS

of Doctoral Dissertations and
Out-of-Print books are now part of
U-M's O-P book service.

Most libraries are bursting at the seams. And each year compounds the difficulties if you add bound volumes of serial publications to your reference stacks.

University Microfilms provides a way to cut 94% from periodical space needs in this two-part program:

(1) Keep regular issues available for the first year or two of greatest use. Then get microfilms for enduring reference needs. The cost is no more than for binding.

(2) Replace backfile bound volumes with microfilms when their stack space is needed for better use. It costs less than a building addition.

Send for a complete price list of the 1200 periodicals now available on microfilms and a copy of latest catalog.

Basic units that

- Provide additional book space;
- Serve as modular units to form aisles, island displays, to partition corners, reading sections, etc.

Any number of Gaylord shelving units—top, base, shelves and partitions—may be joined to form a range of book space and area dividers.

Book capacity of each double-faced unit is about 150 books, 75 on each side. Units illustrated above hold about 300.

Adjustable $\frac{3}{4}$ " non-warping shelves are supported by threaded-steel shelf pins that fit accurately spaced holes on the sides.

Made of selected maple in light and dark finish and quarter sawed oak in light or dark finish.

Help your patrons find the books they need—no matter what their fields of research—with just this one remarkable volume . . .

History, technology, international affairs, atomic energy—or research itself—find the available books on just about every conceivable subject listed here . . . old, new and even forthcoming titles!

SUBJECT GUIDE is the unbelievable reference tool that revolutionized library service last year . . . and now we're coming out with a new 1958 edition! It'll list over 96,000 in-print titles from almost 1,000 U.S. publishers under 25,000 subject heads, with thousands of helpful cross references. Just check the actual sample list under the heading "Research"—and note the valuable cross references that serve as built-in reminders to keep you from missing any pertinent titles.

All the out-of-print books have been deleted since last year's edition—thousands of new books have been added (see the sample list)—and all prices have been up-dated as of the publishers' July '58 catalogs.

Published in October. Send for your on-approval copy today—and see how it can help your library give better service, faster and more accurately, than ever before!

$17.50 postpaid.

(33 1/3% off prepublication price to libraries)

AFTER DEC. 15, 1958 . . $25.00

"In all my research on the Renaissance and Reformation I have never seen such a useful compilation as the present one. What many thousands of honest Christians have needed for centuries has now been put together for simple but valuable usage. Lengthy sermons and elaborate treatises from Luther's pen, no matter how significant for the history of modern civilization, require more study than the average pastor or professor can devote to them. Here at last we meet with a guide through the vast labyrinth of the great Weimar Edition, not to mention the others."—Albert Hyma, Professor of History, University of Michigan.

10 YEARS IN THE MAKING, this handsome anthology brings together for the first time anywhere in the English-speaking world more than 5,100 choice selections on 200 subjects of abiding and practical concern, all alphabetically and topically arranged for quick and easy reference. This is Luther at his most brilliant, striking self—his actual statements, not what somebody said he said.

HERE, AT LONG LAST, at one's finger tips, is the living voice of Martin Luther speaking on life's important issues and problems.

WILL PROVE one of your library's most frequently "used" religious works of reference for years and years to come.
